i have just found this site and will be spending many hours here looking at the images! i am a b&w photographer in vancouver and am currently making a diary of my change from one sex to another. these images will all be in black and white and i may expand this to include all the others that are going through transition in vancouver. the images i have seen by jose raul perez (mexican tarot) are very strong for me and have such a nice touch of humanity in them. anyway, i trust this is what you need for register! thanks for the images
