i was wandering who was the photographer who was featured as the cover page last month about the self-portrait. because i was just looking for it, and now i can't find it anywhere. i thought her work was excellent.....could u please direct me to the certain collection on your website?

i need to check it up cause it is the inspiration for an english essay, and i want to acknowledge the particular person.....

thanx

PS - i'm not quite sure if the photographer was featured last month or a few months ago, however, it was about 'self-portraits'.....

PPS - keep up the great work.....i've been recommending this site to everyone i know.....truly fantastic!

thanx for the guidance...it was exactly what i was looking for...

was that u who was featured as the photographer in 'editorial 14'?

i really like the kind-of 'synopsis' which accompanied the work of art...

very, very thought provoking...

i think that it is truly magnificent! i can't find the words to describe it...it is awe-inspiring...

with so much great digital images, i am amazed at how easily your site is setup for such ease of access to any material...and now with the revised layout - it is even easier to navigate...

your website should win much more awards! just keep up the good work, and thanx again for your help...
