Bonjour,

Buenas,

Hello,

We receive information about zonezero from quite a while and I wish to congratulate you.

Lately, I have been conducting a workshop about digital photography and I used your editorial to map all the different topics about what is really digital, what is art and what is photography.

I also used your page about calibration to tell the group that there can not be any good digital work without good calibration.

I also used your text about printing with inkjet printers to explain them the issues of this technology.

This is obviously a lot for one single site ! And so do think the people in my group !

Congratulations

ML
