Dear Pedro Meyer,

Since my days as the online editor at Photo District News and PDNOnline (since 1998), I've been a huge fan of your website. You do such a great job. So, when I was looking over the Washington Post website, I came across an article by my friend Ben de la Cruz (we graduated from the same college together!--small world) and the special articles you wrote for the Washington Post, I was really intrigued to check out your site again.
