

Date: February 21, 2006 6:43:55 PM

I first saw zone zero while studying photography in Ecuador, and am now in Minneasota at Macalester College, where we have very little access to photography resources. I am the president of the photography club and am trying to get the members to look at some work done by people outside the US.

Thanks for the access to your site!

Laura Buchholz