

Date: February 23, 2006 6:20:02 AM

In 1999 I stopped working as a press photographer. I had then spent 15 years doing it.

Under all years before pressphoto, art photography has been my great passion.

I now devote all my time to artphoto , and I exhibit as often as possible.

I do streetphotography and I enjoy playing with form and shape, both in my architectural photographs and in the experiments I do with various paper models.

I like zone zero for the big diversity of different photographers, and I am interested in participating.

Best regards

Jonn Leffmann