

Lázaro Blanco died today on 4 May 2011. We'll miss him. He was a pillar of photography in Mexico; his classic smile was always a source of inspiration.

Lázaro Blanco belonged to Mexico's Photographic Club. He was a founding member of the Mexican Council of Photography, a professor at Casa del Lago for several generations, a

Lázaro Blanco (1938-2011)

Written by Zone Zero

---

museographer at the Palace of Fine Arts during the exhibition of the Second Latin American Colloquium on Photography, coordinator of the International Pool of Photography for the 19th Olympic Games, winner of the Graphic Biennial of Photographer in 1979 and a prolific photographer who participated in several exhibitions, whose work forms part of collections in Mexico and abroad.

You can post any reflection on Lázaro you would like to share here.